Haggett says the party was commanded by Colonel Jim Carrigan. On arriving in Columbia, they were regarded by the people as representative New York roughs. They then learned that Gov. Scott and many of the members of the South Carolina Legislature were afraid of assassination by the Ku-Klux. They dared hardly leave Columbia. The Ku-Klux constantly watched their movements. They could not get the Ku-Klux leaders in their grasp, though they knew who they were and where they were to be found. Senator Crews, who lived in Laurens, was afraid to go home without a strong guard. While the party was at Rouse's Hotel, in Columbia, a State Senator, accompanied by another official, had several conversations with Jno. Barrett, J. Corcoran, John O'Brien, and Haggett, officing them thirty thousand dollars and State protection if they would go to the house of Mr. Todd, in Laurens, and attack and kill the supposed leaders of the Ku-Klux harbored there. They were said to be men named Todd, Clure, and McCurley. They were told that fleet horses would be provided for their escape; and that they might have $10,000 which they would ind in a safe in Todd's house. Meantime, the remainder of the party Nothing how remained but to perfect the arrangement between Felckæ and Superintendent Kelso. Accordingly the party went in a carriage to the police head central office. Felcker then asked Superintendent Kelso how many healested to take into the secret, and sonable division, and as he could not do this, he threw on the table, the one hundred and fifty dollar check given him by Judge Cardozo, and told the Superintendent that he could return it to the owner.
Superintendent Kelso, so Felcker says, remonstrated and endeavored by various means to ascertain from Felcker the name of the murfarer and his wherehouts. that way, and took his departure; Felck-er also tried to make a satisfactory ar-rangement with the detectives of Jersey City, but failing in this, it is said that he is about returning to Chicago. would find in a safe in Todd's house rangement with the defectives of Jersey would find in a safe in Todds, baste City, but falling in this, it is said that he is about returning to Chicago and the safe in Today Meantime, the remainder of the pasty were to attack David Gest, Jasper Gibbs, or Sheriff Smith, J. is 70, authorizing the Tehuantepec Railway Company to construct a ship canal in addition to its railway, to connect the waters of the Gulfi of Mexico with the Pacific Ocean. This charter or concession contains twenty-one articles, and provides that the canal shall be of a depth aufficient to pass ships drawing 10 feet of waters. The concession is for 99 years, the explorations and surveys must be commust be commenced within one year after the plans and profiles have been submitted to the President of Mexico and approved by-him. The right of way is to be free and one half of the public lands within five miles of each side of the canal are granted to aid in its construction. For 19 years the Mexican Government will exact no contribution for transit through the canal nor on the capital invested

In time of peace all nations may use the canal for transporting troops, munitions and vessels of war, but in time of war it is to be colored against the mations which may be at war with each other. The grant is to become null and void if the conditions mentioned above are not carried out, and to Columbia we were paid, but instead of receiving three dollars per day for our services, as promised, we received only two dollars per day, and were, moreover, ordered to leave the State at once, under penalty of arrest. Of course we did so. Our party cost Scott—or, perhaps, South Carolina—about six thousand dollars."

This statement is corroborated by the affidavits of five of Haggett's party, which affidavits are now in the possession of the editor of the Sun.

Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, indulged in, when slone, a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are nightly, felt, even when saleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched, from all prospects and enjoyments of life by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating
